ADSC supports Stevenson foundation through their annual Shooting Match

The Alliston & District Sportsmen's Club presented a cheque to Stevenson Memorial Hospital Foundation from their 7th Annual Shooting Match where over $3,700 was raised. Every summer, the match draws competitive shooters from across Ontario to demonstrate their skills and raise funds for our local hospital. In the past seven years the event has raised in total over $14,300 for the hospital.

Allman Vieira, event organizer and instructor with the Alliston & District Sportsmen's Club (ADSC) became involved with the hospital when he was looking for a way his organization could help the community. Allman was personally touched by the care received and dedication of the physicians, nurses and staff at the hospital, when the avid sportsman found himself in the Emergency Department at Stevenson Memorial Hospital for treatment.

He is grateful for the care he received: "Immediately the decision was made," he says. "Personally, together with my family, we have used the hospital emergency services on many occasions. Very professional and dedicated individuals afforded us care and attention beyond our expectations."

Allman's experience led to the launch of the ADSC's annual Shooting Match, and has grown the event to a three day tournament in its seventh year and continuing.

"I dearly pledge my continued support," he said. "I strongly believe we should all play a part in whatever level of involvement we can afford. Hopefully, this mind set can make a difference."

Today, Allman welcomes the opportunity to work with local businesses and community members to grow the Shooting Match, and encourages anyone who would like to get involved visit www.adsc.info or call Allman at 705-424-6665.
